The improvements, present and prospective, contemplated by Mr. Thrum in the registrar's office are all in line with the long felt necessities of this important department. Hawaii has ever shown an indifference to the proper compilation of statistics. That the Registrar's office has been behind the times is the fault of our Legislatures that could not see the necessity for furnishing funds sufficient to allow keeping pace with modern convenience which in these days is far from being a luxury.

The most serious cloud that has appeared on the political horizon of Delegate Wilcox is the assertion of his former wife that she will join the forces contesting his seat in the United States Congress. Mereno never proved a heavy weight in the assistance he rendered Wilcox or the Queen and his present opposition is not likely to amount to much except as he can stir up sympathy for the woman who considers her life wrecked by the false promises of this man Hawaii has elected. It is certain that Wilcox will have a good sized fight on his hands and if the Italian-Americans once become aroused he will have to combat a force that in its indirect influence is more powerful than anything the people of Hawaii can produce.

PIONEER OF PROGRESS.

The steamship Sierra, the pioneer of the new steamers of the Oceanic Steamship Company has proved all that her owners have promised. The storm the ship encountered on her initial trip while setting at naught all prospects of a record put the seaworthiness of the boat to a severe test with the result that nothing is found wanting. Hawaii had a good representation on board the boat, men and women who have traveled on many seas through all sorts of wind and weather. The unanimity with which they praise the behavior of the steamer, the service and all appointments of the new liner is a sufficient guarantee that tourists seeking an outing in Hawaii will have no source of future complaint on account of the character of the steamer plying to this port.

The Bulletin gives special space to this pioneer of the new Oceanic ships since few events of our history bespeak more forcibly the rapid development of American traffic in the Pacific. The Oceanic Company has always been a leading factor in this steady progress and particularly intimate with the industrial and commercial life of the Territory. With this addition to the Australian line, leaving two additional steamers for the local line to San Francisco, Honolulu will have a steamer service that brings it in close connection with the outside world, a condition that will assure a large increase in the tourist traffic as well as vast benefits to the financial and industrial circles of this Islands.

An Interesting Novelty.

A window attraction that has drawn much attention is the electric motor engine in the window of the Bergstrom Music Co. This is a very ingenious little affair gotten up by the Union Electric Co., a comparatively new concern here, of which Messrs. T. L. De Cex and J. H. Thompson are the proprietors. They were unable to secure steel rails for the engine so wooden rails were made and wires to carry the current run alongside the rails. A miniature motor inside runs the engine. The motor being worked by the current from the light wires. Another ingenious contrivance here is the placing of a storage battery, fully charged, on the circuit through which the current runs. The engine is thus ready run by the storage battery which is kept fully charged all the time. Thus in case of the light current should fail for any reason, the engine would be run just the same by the battery. It runs along as smoothly and nicely as can be and certainly makes a most excellent attraction for the window which is handsomely decorated for Christmas.

Kaliwal, the small native boy arrested early yesterday morning on the charge of stealing papers from a certain place in the city, appeared in the Police Court, this forenoon. The prosecution asked for a nolle prosequi and the boy was allowed to go. It is understood that he made a complete confession to the authorities and promised he would never steal papers again. On this showing it was decided to give the boy a chance.

A number of trustees are now at work painting the police station both inside and out. The prisoners had to be taken through the building and up the main stairway to the court room this morning owing to painting operations on the regular back stairway, up which the prisoners are always taken. A policeman headed the procession and another one brought up the rear in order to insure the safe conduct of the prisoners to the room above.

The band concert will be held at Mahe Island Sunday at the usual time instead of at the Capitol grounds. This change is made on account of the illness of Mr. Hopper.

PLANS MATURE FOR LINERS TO ORIENT

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—There are persistent rumors that the ocean trade of San Francisco will be revolutionized in the next few months. It is said that John Rosenfeld has gone East in the interests of Jim Hill with the view of buying the steamer Californian, long pending to the Glasgow line, and that she will be run in the Asiatic trade either from here or Seattle. The report has reached the city that the Californian has already been sold, and it is thought probable that Rosenfeld is the purchaser.

Frank Johnson is also in the East and the cause of his visit is said to be due to his desire to establish an Oriental line between here and Hongkong in connection with the Santa Fe. It is also said that should he succeed he will secure the agency. These stories all point to the fact that there will be something doing shortly in the Oriental trade. It is declared that the Pacific Mail is not a favorite either here or anywhere else, and there is a determination to get some of its business. By those who are in a position to know it is said that matters are in abeyance with the Panama line, that another steamer has been chartered, it is not thought probable that the Panama line and the Pacific Mail will ever get to seriously fighting.

Shipping men are looking at the American-Hawaiian line with a good deal of interest. It has now a contract to carry sugar from the Islands to New York at a rate of $8.75 per ton. On their return they will bring freight from New York to San Francisco, then go light to Seattle and pick up what freight they can in Seattle for the Islands.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC

At the Central Union church, the Christmas service will be held on Sunday next, December 23d. In the morning there will be a Christmas anthem, "Behold, I Bring Glad Tidings," Homer Bartlett, by a quartet and chorus. The quartet members are Mrs. Allen White, Miss Della E. Griswold, C. N. Prouty and W. M. Burns. The solos will be by Mrs. White and Mr. Prouty. There will be also a Christmas carol for ladies' voices by Reineck, sung by Mrs. J. T. McDonald, Miss L. M. Winne, Miss Lillian Byington and Miss Carrie Castle, first soprano; Miss Della E. Griswold, Mrs. C. B. Damon, Miss Harriet Needham and Miss Florence Yarnley, second soprano.

The morning offertory solo will be "My Heart Ever Faithful," by Bach, rendered by Mrs. Allen White, with violinello obligato by Mr. Harold Mott-Smith. The organ accompaniment will be by Prof. A. B. Ingalls. The organ prelude for the morning will be "Grand Offertory," No. 2, St. Cecilia, by Rattale and the postlude "Marche," by Alex. Guilman.

For the evening there is arranged a Pralce Service, consisting entirely of selections from the world's greatest oratorio, The Messiah, by Handel, and a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Wm. M. Kincaid. There will be recitation by Miss Della E. Griswold and Mr. C. N. Prouty and the lovely aria, "O Thou That Tellest," by Miss Griswold. The service closes with the grand, time-honored old "Hallelujah!" the first note of which always brings congregations and audiences as well as choirs to their feet. Forty singers have promised to assist in the choruses.

The instrumental numbers will be a violin solo by Miss Alice Woods and an organ solo by Prof. A. B. Ingalls, who plays also the overture and postlude, arranged by himself from The Messiah. Mrs. J. W. Yarnley is the music director.

Miss Jennie Murray, daughter of Captain T. B. Murray, returned from the Coast in the Sierra last night after a visit of over eight months with relatives and friends in San Francisco. She has had a delightful time but is most glad to get back again to Hawaii.
